BRITISH COLUMBIA'S SOCIAL WELFARE PROGRAMME

PART I

British Columbia's Social Legislation is designed to promote the welfare of children, individuals and families, suffering from various social needs. Some of the most important Acts are:

SOCIAL ASSISTANCE ACT

Social allowances, general medical services, drugs and other types of assistance may be granted under the terms of this act. The act has been designed to make legal provision for those who cannot be granted assistance under other more specific acts, with the result that no one who is eligible should be denied necessities essential to maintain or assist in maintaining a reasonably normal health existence.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCE ACT

Under the terms of this act, provision is made for the granting of an allowance to mothers with children under the age of sixteen years, and under certain conditions under eighteen years, who are widows or who cannot be supported by the husband for certain specific reasons.

OLD-AGE PENSION ACT

This act enables the province to make provision for persons seventy years of age and over who may be eligible under the Federal Act and Regulations. In addition the province provides a cost of living bonus or allowance. Persons seventy years of age and over who are not eligible under the provisions of the Federal Act may be granted comparable assistance under the "Social Assistance Act."

CHILD WELFARE

Child Welfare Legislation includes the Protection of Children Act, Children of Unmarried Parents Act, Adoption Act, Boys' Industrial School Act, Girls' Industrial Schools Act and the Juvenile Delinquency Act, and entails the protection and care of dependent or neglected children; placement of children in adoption homes; and care and treatment of delinquent children.

British Columbia's programme is the most outstanding and the most generous in Canada. The services available to those in need, at our district offices in unorganized territory and in municipalities, are the most comprehensive in the Dominion.
